UNAMUSED: a feminist musical fantasia adapted from an essay that was based on a true story about a play that was based on a true story
Book, Music, and Lyrics by Sam Linden
Adapted from "We Are Not A Muse" from A Field Guide to Awkward Silences by Alexandra Petri
Alexandra was thrilled to have been chosen for the Fancy Playwriting Class in college. But not only was her ex-boyfriend in class with her, but he was writing a play about their breakup—a play in which she was the villain. Join us for the first ever public reading of a new musical about truth, lies, and the space between, and then share feedback with the author.
Performs Thurs 3/28 at 11:00pm, Fri 3/29 at 11:00pm, and Sat 3/30 at 8:00pm.
Location: Cab Basement Theatre at 217 Park.

Truck II
by Margaret E. Douglas
The year is 2145. Frances and her grandfather have retrofitted the beloved family truck for interplanetary space travel. Just before departing for the lunar colonies, Frances is coerced into giving her ex-girlfriend a ride to the moon. How much pressure can the vessel withstand? Does love exist in a vacuum? As humans find ways to get farther and farther away from each other, what will hold us together? Seating for Truck II is full, but call or come to the box office starting at 6:30pm on the day of the performance to be put on a waiting list (203) 432-1566.
Performs Fri 3/29 at 8:00pm, 9:30pm, and 11:00pm; and performs Sat 3/30 8:00pm, 9:30pm, and 11:00pm. Location: Loading Dock at 1156 Chapel St.
Run-time: ~35 mins

Alexa, wait for Godot
by Elliot G Mitchell
Two Alexa devices talk in circles, patiently waiting for someone who may never arrive. What does it all mean? Nothing, really.
This installation will be presented on Fri 3/29 from 8:00pm to 11:45pm.
Location: Leeds Studio at 149 York.
Audiences are encouraged to come at their convenience.

This is Not Art, It's Just Asian
by Kat Yen
Why aren’t there more openly angry Asians in our industry? Why can’t I direct an Asian thesis play here at Yale School of Drama? And is that even what I should be trying to do with my life? Inspired by Frank Chin's legendary and unapologetic commentary, this is my attempt to start a conversation about how Asian-Americans are seen in the American theater industry.
Occurs Thurs 3/28 at 10:30pm and Sat 3/30 at 10:30pm.
Location: Cab Studio at 217 Park.
Run-time: ~30 mins

black girl burning: an open letter
by Malia West
a poem, a plea, a panic attack, a prayer...and some praise.
Performs Thurs 3/28 at 10:00pm, Fri 3/29 at 10:00pm, and Sat 3/30 at 10:00pm.
Location: Cab Basement Theatre at 217 Park.
Run-time: ~30 mins

Untitled semi-improvised dance/music piece
by Sarah Xiao and Liam Bellman-Sharpe
Untitled semi-improvised dance/music piece is exactly what it sounds like: a collage of structured and unstructured dance and music that encourages the audience to suspend regular modes of sensing and understanding. Using different rulesets, and a combination of pre-composed and improvised vocabularies, dancer/choreographer Sarah Xiao and composer/guitarist Liam Bellman-Sharpe will create work that invites the audience into a playful and meditative game of free association.
Location: Cab Studio at 217 Park.
Run-time: ~45 Mins

* Truck II has no more capacity. Our box office will start a waiting list at 6:30pm on the day of the performance.
